JANUARY 2021

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Fatherhood and Faith

Today is Fathers' Day; and while you have heard me make remarks about the difference between the justified attention that Mothers' Day receives compared to today, we all know that the role of the father is indeed especially important. In this Year of St. Joseph, as we celebrate Fathers' Day, let us recall from his life what the presence of a father means for the family and especially for kids.

The following come from Pope Francis' Patris Corde for the Year of St. Joseph:

Fathers are not born, but made. A man does not become a father simply by bringing a child into the world, but by taking up the responsibility to care for that child. Whenever a man accepts responsibility for the life of another, in some way he becomes a father to that person.

Children today often seem orphans, lacking fathers. The Church too needs fathers. Saint Paul's words to the Corinthians remain timely: "Though you have countless guides in Christ, you do not have many fathers" (1 Cor 4:15). Every priest or bishop should be able to add, with the Apostle: "I became your father in Christ Jesus through the Gospel" (ibid.). Paul likewise calls the Galatians: "My little children, with whom I am again in travail until Christ be formed in you!" (4:19).

Being a father entails introducing children to life and reality. Not holding them back, being overprotective or possessive, but rather making them capable of deciding for themselves, enjoying freedom and exploring new possibilities. Perhaps for this reason, Joseph is traditionally called a "most chaste" father. That title is not simply a sign of affection, but the summation of an attitude that is the opposite of possessiveness. Chastity is freedom from possessiveness in every sphere of one's life. Only when love is chaste, is it truly love. A possessive love ultimately becomes dangerous: it imprisons, constricts and makes for misery. God himself loved humanity with a chaste love; he left us free even to go astray and set ourselves against him. The logic of love is always the logic of freedom, and Joseph knew how to love with extraordinary freedom. He never made himself the centre of things. He did not think of himself, but focused instead on the lives of Mary and Jesus.

Joseph found happiness not in mere self-sacrifice but in self-gift. In him, we never see frustration but only trust. His patient silence was the prelude to concrete expressions of trust. Our world today needs fathers. Joseph found happiness not in mere self-sacrifice but in self-gift. In him, we never see frustration but only trust. His patient silence was the prelude to concrete expressions of trust. Our world today needs fathers.

Indeed, we need fathers and father figures in today's society. Recent history and ongoing events emphatically point to that reality. Catholic fathers can and should show the way following the example of St. Joseph.

HAPPY FATHERS' DAY TO ALL FATHERS AND FATHER FIGURES!!!

Have Faith

When the waves began to beat on Jesus' and the disciples' boat, they became afraid. Can you blame them? We'd probably do the same thing as them, call out in a terrified voice for God to rescue us from our distress. But faith isn't about a happy-go-lucky lifestyle, a magical genie God that zaps all our troubles away. Faith is a calm assurance that the Lord of the Universe will triumph in the end. Storms buffeting your little boat today? Call out, but call out in faith, for God is already there with you.

Thank You

Roger Millo and the family of Kay Speiser Millo would like to thank everyone for their outpouring of love & Support on the passing of their beloved Kay. They also extend much gratitude to all who attended, participated & contributed in making her Final Farewell Beautiful and Special.

Religious Freedom Week 2021 June 21—June 29: Solidarity in Freedom “Solidarity means much more than engaging in sporadic acts of generosity.

It means thinking and acting in terms of community” (Fratelli tutti, 116).

Religious freedom allows the Church, and all religious communities, to live out their faith in public and to serve the good of all. Beginning June 22, the feast of Sts. Thomas More and John Fisher, the USCCB invites Catholics to pray, reflect, and act to promote religious freedom.

Únanse a nosotros, del 22 al 29 de junio, para orar, reflexionar y tomar medidas para promover la libertad religiosa, tanto aquí en este país como en el extranjero.
