PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

As followers of Jesus, we at Holy Rosary Parish, seek to be a living community with respect for different persons and personalities. Attuned to the will of God by example of faith, worship, and prayer, we will work together toward the common goal of a loving, sharing, forgiving community that would, in itself, draw the interest of others into our Church community!

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Human Solidarity

Among other things, the story of the good Samaritan reminds us of our common human dignity and the need to be merciful to all regardless of who they are. When the life of the other is threatened or in danger, all other considerations take a secondary position, even worship. It is not by chance that Jesus in the story mentions a Levite and a priest, presumably on their way to the temple and or synagogue. Life at all stages and in all circumstances comes first.

“Social justice can be obtained only in respecting the transcendent dignity of man. The person represents the ultimate end of society, which is ordered to him: ‘What is at stake is the dignity of the human person, whose defense and promotion have been entrusted to us by the Creator, and to whom the men and women at every moment of history are strictly and responsibly in debt.’ (CCC, 1929)

“Respect for the human person entails respect for the rights that flow from his dignity as a creature. These rights are prior to society and must be recognized by it. They are the basis of the moral legitimacy of every authority: by flouting them, or refusing to recognize them in its positive legislation, a society undermines its own moral legitimacy. If it does not respect them, authority can rely only on force or violence to obtain obedience from its subjects. It is the Church’s role to remind men of good will of these rights and to distinguish them from unwarranted or false claims. (CCC, 1930)

“Respect for the human person proceeds by way of respect for the principle that ‘everyone should look upon his neighbor (without any exception) as “another self,” above all bearing in mind his life and the means necessary for living it with dignity.’ No legislation could by itself do away with the fears, prejudices, and attitudes of pride and selfishness which obstruct the establishment of truly fraternal societies. Such behavior will cease only through the charity that finds in every man a ‘neighbor,’ a brother. (CCC, 1931)

“The duty of making oneself a neighbor to others and actively serving them becomes even more urgent when it involves the disadvantaged, in whatever area this may be. ‘As you did it to one of the least of these my brethren, you did it to me.’ (CCC, 1932)

“This same duty extends to those who think or act differently from us. The teaching of Christ goes so far as to require the forgiveness of offenses. He extends the commandment of love, which is that of the New Law, to all enemies. Liberation in the spirit of the Gospel is incompatible with hatred of one’s enemy as a person, but not with hatred of the evil that he does as an enemy.” (CCC, 1933)

Let us show the Samaritan in us always.

Have a blessed week everyone!

Who Could, Could You?

It's easy to look at the act of the Good Samaritan as a sort of "emergency roadside assistance." Of course we would help someone bleeding and beaten on the side of the road. We don't have hearts of stone. Who could pass by such suffering? But the suffering souls we pass may not be so obvious. Their tears may be internal, their sighs almost silent. The blood staining their clothes may be from the wounds of weariness or loneliness, not a knife or a gun. It takes a closer look, a more tender heart to see the suffering that today's world serves up. These souls need solace as much as the beaten man did, and today's Samaritan must learn to see with God's eyes.

Look around your community today. Are there families without food, children without schoolbooks, mothers to be without medical care? Do the incurably ill suffer alone? These wounded souls stand by the roadside of our lives today watching as the world passes by. Will you?

“St. John Chrysostom who, as you know, dealt with the Mystery of the Eucharist in such eloquent language and with such insight born of devotion, had these most fitting words to offer on one occasion when he was instructing his faithful about this mystery: "Let us submit to God in all things and not contradict Him, even if what He says seems to contradict our reason and intellect; let His word prevail over our reason and intellect. Let us act in this way with regard to the Eucharistic mysteries, and not limit our attention just to what can be perceived by the senses, but instead hold fast to His words. For His word cannot deceive." (MF 17)

“San Juan Crisóstomo, que, como sabéis, trató con palabra tan elevada y con piedad tan profunda el misterio eucarístico, instruyendo en cierta ocasión a sus fieles acerca de esta verdad, se expresó en estos apropiados términos: «Inclinémonos ante Dios; y no le contradigamos, aun cuando lo que Él dice pueda parecer contrario a nuestra razón y a nuestra inteligencia; que su palabra prevalezca sobre nuestra razón e inteligencia. Observemos esta misma conducta respecto al misterio [eucarístico], no considerando solamente lo que cae bajo los sentidos, sino atendiendo a sus palabras, porque su palabra no puede engañar.” (MF 3)

North Jacksonville Deanery Mass

With our new Bishop Erik Pohlmeier

Monday, July 25
7:00pm

Sacred Heart Catholic Church
5752 Blanding Blvd,
Jacksonville

Reception follows in the Parish Center

Bishop-elect Erik Pohlmeier has scheduled a Deanery Mass and reception to meet the clergy and people of our deanery on Monday, July 25, at 7:00pm at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, 5752 Blanding Blvd. We encourage our parishioners to attend the Deanery Mass since the Episcopal Ordination and Installation will be a ticketed event at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Jacksonville. Holy Rosary falls under this deanery.
